

Report Questions Legality of Golf Course Deal

DR. BENJAMIN GOLDBERG relaxes on the desk in front of City Manager Dan Wagner, as he explains his report on the Palm Springs Municipal Golf Course. He said the city was wrong in not putting the lease-purchase agreement to a vote of the people. (Desert Sun Photo)

REPORT ON GOLF COURSE IS GIVEN

Dr. Benjamin Goldberg, in a lengthy golf course report to the City Council and some 400 citizens jammed into the council chambers last night, said that the council may find itself the owners of the municipal golf links, and in the position where they have to pay the city back all the money that was spent on the links — if legality of the lease-purchase is challenged by a taxpayer.

City Council members refused any comment on the report when Mayor Frank Bogert said, "it took Dr. Goldberg several weeks to compile it, and we will take the time to look it over and then make a reply."

IN THE REPORT, which ran some 50 typewritten pages, Dr. Goldberg covered all the background of the deals by the Capital Investment Corporation, Westview Development Corporation, and the city administration, and pointed out that after interviewing more than 30 persons for a total of some 350 hours, "nowhere could we find any situation where an individual received monies because of this deal."

Since the initiation of the municipal golf course transaction, rumors of payoffs have come up on many occasions, Dr. Goldberg's report pointed out that nowhere could he find any truth to these reports.

AFTER A COMPLETE outline of the transactions of the Palm Springs Golf Course, Dr. Goldberg commented that the council should have put the matter into the hands of the public for a vote. He pointed out that it is his belief that if it had gone to a vote, and a group of leading citizens had taken on the job of selling it to the people there would have been no doubt that it would have passed by a large majority.

"The practice of omitting the public when a decision of this kind is made is not good," said Dr. Goldberg, "and there is a hope that the members of the City Council will come to realization that the taxpayers money is their trust to be carefully guarded and only utilized as the laws dictate and the taxpayers vote."

DR. GOLDBERG, in outlining the legal implications in his report for the Palm Springs Civic Association — which asked him to conduct the investigation — said, "Palm Springs is no longer a town hall meeting place of all the townspeople, to discuss the problems of the community and the conduct of its affairs. It is rather a Council Chamber of a municipality with officials, both elective and appointive. They gather to pass ordinances in the guidance of their community and to determine the expenditures which result in the taxing of our real property and purchases."

"The elective body is, for the greater part, self-nominated, by petition, is given the vote of friends and neighbors, usually on a municipal partisan or personal bias. Knowledge of governmental procedure or great experience in transactions involving large sums

New Elementary School Assured

Construction of a new elementary school at Palm Springs Country Club Estates was virtually assured last night as the Board of Education designated architect John Porter Clark to design school buildings for the still unpurchased site.

Schools Supt. Dwight Twist reported that three appraisers are now evaluating the worth of the proposed school site and that land owner Jack Silverman has agreed to abide by the price established by the appraisal.

"I feel certain that we can now proceed with planning for the school," Twist told the board, urging immediate action in hopes that the new $400,000 elementary school may be ready for fall.

Board members had previously recorded their agreement to purchase the site, located in the heart of the 250-home development just east of the city limits, at the price set by the independent appraisal team.

The board authorized Village engineer Frank Hamerschlag to survey the site and designated Clark as the architect to design the district's newest school.

Rockefeller Goes North Seeking Aid

Little Support Noted In L. A. GOP Conclave

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York turned to Northern California today in an effort to chip away at an almost solid front for Vice President Richard M. Nixon's candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

Rockefeller and his party were scheduled to leave from Los Angeles International Airport at 8 a.m. p.s.t. and arrive in San Francisco at 9:30 p. m. p.s.t.

Neither Rockefeller nor Nixon as yet is an announced candidate, but Nixon is regarded as the front runner for the GOP bid and Rockefeller admits that his far western tour of four states is for the purpose of helping him make up his mind whether to run.

Rockefeller, a genial, smiling, friendly man, did his best Thursday to woo support for his possible candidacy in Los Angeles, the home county of Nixon.

But he made little if any headway, judging from comments of Republican leaders in Southern California.

A delegation of Los Angeles County Republican brass headed by Alphonzo E. Bell, Jr., county chairman, met with the 51-year-old New Yorker Thursday.

This was Bell's summary of the results of the conference: "The party officials who attended this meeting are probably unanimous in their support of Dick Nixon for the presidential nomination."

"And I am sure no local Republican position has changed in this respect because of anything which has transpired today."

Even Sen. Thurston B. Morton R-Ky., national chairman of the GOP, said he thought a Nixon-Rockefeller clash in California's June presidential primary would make it "most difficult" for the party.

EDUCATORS WILL JUDGE T.T. ESSAYS ON THANKSGIVING

Three Palm Springs educators will serve as judges for the Tortoise Tim Thanksgiving Essay Contest. Timothy Tortoise announced today.

Winning essays and photos of their authors will be printed in the Desert Sun, which publishes "Tortoise Tim's Times" every Thursday.

Contest judges are Eileen Carey, principal of Frances S. Stevens School; Mrs. Marge Harnage, school district reading teacher; and Mrs. Dolores Lowry, fifth grade teacher at Frances Stevens.

Contest prizes are two 10-pound turkeys. One will be given to a boy or girl in grades through four and the second will be presented to a contest winner from five through 14 years of age.

The contest is open to all boys and girls through age 14. Contestants are asked to write from 50 to 125 words on Thanksgiving Time in 1621—the days of the Pilgrims—or Thanksgiving Time, 1959. Entries must be mailed to Tortoise Tim's Times, in care of The Desert Sun, Post Office Box 190, Palm Springs.

Ray Scraps Sky Drop Promotion For New Plan

Ray Blumenthal, owner of Ray's Shop for Men, is making new plans for giving away $2,500 worth of free gift certificates to celebrate the opening of his new shop in the Riviera Hotel.

But no ping-pong balls will rain from the skies bearing gift certificates. The safety slide-rule boys figured the variables on accident possibilities in the proposed friendly bombardment and decided plummeting ping-pong balls could lead eager children dashing into the streets — or scare pilots of earth-bound vehicles.

Blumenthal, who operates his exclusive men's shop at 222 North Palm Canyon Drive and is preparing to move it into the Riviera on Nov. 28, is completing plans now to get his gift slips out by terrestrial methods.

Blumenthal is planning a new approach — but won't say what, just yet.

Diplomat's Son Claims Immunity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Coroner A. Magruder McDonald refused today to hold an inquest into the auto fatality involving the Irish Ambassador's son because he felt the son's diplomatic immunity made the hearings "meaningless."

COLLEGE TRUSTEES DISCUSS POLICY

Although the Coachella Valley Junior Board of trustees discussed major items of procedure and policy for the college, no action was taken at last night's meeting which was adjourned to Nov. 19.

Consideration of major items of procedure and policy — including educational concepts, a completed plan for the buildings and adoption of a policy program relating to personnel, finance, student life and travel — saw the entire board and Dr. Roy McCall, president, discussing which courses should be required of students and which should not.

McCALL SAID that the policy, when adopted, would be the "framework within which the administrative officers operate the institution."

Curriculum requirements took up most of the board's time as members agreed that further study should be given to the matter before forming policy.

At the meeting Dr. McCall also reported on the recent Yosemite California Junior College Association Fall Conference, whose theme was "The Meeting of Quality and Economy in Education."

McCALL SAID THAT most boards have bypassed the possibility of leveling a fee for out of state persons at the present. He added that it might possibly still be left up to the local boards to pass on this.

On speaking of specialties in the college, McCall said that presently a "very simple" program should be followed until it is proved that it doesn't cost any more to varied.

Greyhound Bus Agent Sold Suspect Ticket

BULLETIN

YUMA, Ariz. — Arizona law enforcement agencies joined forces here today in a methodical dragnet for 21-year-old Tord Zeppen-Field, The Desert Sun learned exclusively.

Arizona Highway Patrol Sgt. Charles Lawlitt told The Desert Sun that "Yuma police, Phoenix police, deputies from four Arizona counties and the Federal Bureau of Investigation have joined Highway Patrol officers in the manhunt here."

Road blocks on all access roads to the City of Yuma have been established and a ranch-by-ranch search is now in process, he said.

He said the Arizona authorities threw the coordinated plan into action upon being informed of the youth's bus trip to Yuma. The Arizona officials said they learned of the youth's arrival in Arizona simultaneously by Desert Sun telephone call and a Riverside County sheriff's all-points bulletin.

By FRED WIEGEL and AL LE ANCE

A ticket agent for Greyhound Bus Company's Indian terminal told Riverside County sheriff's investigators today that he had sold Tord Zeppen-Field, 21-year-old suspect in the bldgeon murder of Lillian Lenorak, a one-way ticket to Yuma, Ariz., on Monday.

Agent Edgar Hughes told Sheriff's Capt. John Presley that the youth had purchased the ticket at about 2 a.m. Monday, about one hour prior to the departure of the Yuma bus.

HUGHES SAID HE had read of the youth's interrogation by Indian police officers in yesterday's Desert Sun and realized—upon seeing the boy's picture—that he had sold the suspect a ticket.

Hughes said that Zeppen-Field appeared "very nervous" but talked freely with him.

"He said he was going to borrow some money in Yuma," Hughes told the sheriff's investigator, "and also wanted to check on a pair of horses he had left in Yuma for breeding purposes a year ago."

Police today trekked into Chino Canyon to follow up a report that Zeppen-Field used a remote cave as a base for acting out his own private western charade with horses staked out in the area by resort ranchers.

LED BY GARY GOLDEN, a teen-aged Villager who sometimes accompanied Zeppen-Field on his canyon excursions, a search team comprised of Police Sgt. John Herrera, Officer John Moss and Sheriff's Deputy J. D. Purkiss hiked into the area early this morning.

Police said Golden reported that Zeppen-Field had cached canned food and various provisions in the cave. The youth said Zeppen-Field often stayed at the cave for several days at a time.

But neither White nor Sheriff's Lt. Ed Brown regarded the canyon trek as anything more than a "cold trail" that must be followed to round out a manhunt that is growing into massive proportions in Southern California, Utah and Arizona.

BROWN, CHIEF OF THE sheriff's Banning sub-station and head of the murder investigation, said there is a possibility of the FBI entering the case if it is determined that Zeppen-Field crossed a state line.

In the more immediate southern California area, sheriff's deputies combed the Santa Rosa Mountains and particularly concentrated their efforts in small desert communities with accented "western-type" atmosphere.

THE TRI-STATE crackdown was a sharp reversal in plot for Zeppen-Field, the Swedish-born son of Mrs. Vega Zeppen-Field, who apparently fancied himself as a western hero, "patterned after television's "Wanted — Dead or Alive" western series.

Brown said the murder weapon, an 18-inch length of rifle barrel chopped from a pump-action .22, was apparently part of a strange, saved-off weapon Zeppen-Field had designed to simulate the stubby rifle carried by TV bounty hunter Steve McQueen.

Against Councilwoman

Councilwoman Mary Carlin last night found herself faced with the possibility of having her fellow councilmen taking legal steps against her for her violation of the city sign ordinance.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker asked the council for a directive in the enforcement of the ordinance, which is being violated by a half dozen hotels displaying rate signs on Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue.

HOLDING TO HER belief that "what is fair for one is fair for another," Mrs. Carlin stood firm on her belief and said that she once proved the city ordinance sections on rate signs to be unconstitutional "and I can see no reason why the new ordinance changes wouldn't be found also unconstitutional."

Mayor Frank Bogert asked Mrs. Carlin if she, as a city councilwoman, didn't take an oath to uphold the laws of the city, and if

Bank Opening Set For Dec. 12

Indio Open House To Follow Parade

Security First National Bank will hold open house at its new Indio Branch building on Dec. 12, it was announced today by O. B. Ellington, senior vice president and administrative officer of the Citizens Division.

Ellington said the new structure, which will replace the present branch building now located at 82-735 Miles Avenue, will hold open house from 2 to 6 p.m. immediately following the Indio Christmas parade.

VISITORS TO THE new branch located at the corner of Oasis and Bliss will be hosted by Ira Johnson, vice president and branch manager.

Johnson said Indio residents and visitors can expect a gala opening which will include:

1. Several drawings for cash prizes. Tickets will be available at the present branch location and at the drive-in window of the new building before the December opening.

2. Traditional Arab costumes will be worn by personnel and special decorations will adorn the building.

3. AN ELEGANT display in tribute to Coachella Valley's agricultural production executed by Peggy Sandford, winner of four first prizes with her last five Indio Chamber of Commerce floats in the Tournament of Roses.

4. Surprise souvenirs with cash prizes for everyone.

5. Refreshments served in the new community room on the mezzanine. This room will also be made available to any non-profit civic organizations for meetings in the evening after the new building is open.

6. A special brochure prepared in tribute to Indio and the Coachella Valley will be given away to everyone attending the open house.

THE NEW BUILDING was designed by Robert Hyle Thomas of Apple Valley and will cost $250,000 when completed.

"We are building this new structure so we might better serve the rapid growth in the Indio area," said Gilbert D. Lehmann, assistant vice president in charge of the Citizens Division property development program.

Lehmann, who also directed the construction of the recently opened Ramon Road Branch in Palm Springs, said the new branch will contain 5,200 square feet of lobby space and 2,000 square feet of additional space on the mezzanine.

"THE NEW STRUCTURE will have more than double the space available in our present branch," he said.

Facing west, the building will have a recessed glass entrance and will be trimmed in ornamental concrete block with a facade of fog yellow herring bone steel. The night depository, for use by business establishments unable to make deposits during banking hours, will be located next to the drive-in window on the north side of the building.

There will also be a spacious parking lot on the north side of the branch with easy access to either the front or the rear of the building, as well as many other additional banking features, Lehmann said.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Oshier hosted a "housewarming" cocktail party last Friday night in their new Sun Lodge. The guests included the Ernest Blenkhorns, Gifford Salmons, Dudley Steeles, Mrs. Maurice Essery, Mrs. Refa Deaton, Harrison Fisher, Russell Olds, Charles Newberry, T. W. Morris, A. J. Gibsons, Robert Fifthians and L. G. Bairds.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Gordon entertained Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Markell and Capt. and Mrs. William Cone with dinner and dancing at the Eldorado Club Saturday night.

The Palm Desert Players held their first meeting of the season, Monday night, Nov. 9, in the old Post Office building on Larkspur Lane. It was an organizational meeting to plan the season's activities as well as try-outs for the first play "Accent on Youth."

Mr. and Mrs. Angus McLeod of Santa Monica were weekend guests of Ernest and Margaret Blenkhorn.

The Rotary Club "Ladies Day" promises a good musical program, planned and presented by that well known tenor, Dick Kite. The Rotary Anns have always turned out well for these affairs.

A group of sports car enthusiasts from Los Altos spent the weekend here. They included George and Myrtle Mozart, Vi and Al Hartsworn, Barbara and John Stanley, Pat and Emil Pardee and the Bill Willatts. Posters have been distributed for the Carnation Ball to be held Saturday night, Nov. 21, at the El Mirador. This gala affair will donate its proceeds to the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation. A program of noted stars will be offered as well as cocktails, buffet supper and dancing. Tickets may be obtained here by calling FI 6-6580.

There was a capacity "golf" crowd at Shadow Mountain Club Saturday night. Among the members and their guests were seen the Kay Olesens, Ira Johnsons, Steve Chases, Dr. and Mrs. P. W. Seals, Ralph Rowlands, Dr. and Mrs. George Munns, E. F. Pearsons and guests, A. E. Gundersons, W. W. Dunhams, Charles Foxes, Boyd Thomas and a party of nine, E. L. Sweeting and a party of 16, the William David Hamiltons hosting a party of 12. Everett Johnsons, Warren Days, J. F. of money, plus the judgement or wisdom of experience, is frequently not found."

DR. GOLDBERG said he made this statement "because apparently little thought was given to the legal problems involved in the acquisition of a golf course and its operation."

He further pointed out that it was probably a fact that the failure of the golf course issue on Feb. 14, 1956, caused the council to bypass a public vote on the new issue.

Dr. Goldberg concluded his report by saying that he was by no means "against the golf facility," and has heard nothing but good about the playability of the course and the cost.

Worst Storm Of Season Hits Montana

Biggest Blizzard Spills Into Plains, Midwestern States

HELENA, Mont. (UPI) — The season's biggest snow storm roared out of the Rockies into the Great Plains and Middle West today, leaving Montana paralyzed under its worst blizzard in history.

A bitter cold wave followed the death-dealing blizzard into Montana, plunging the mercury to 32 degrees below zero at Butte this morning and 29 below at Helena, the state's capital city which was crushed by a record 21.5 inch snowfall.

CUT BANK, MONT., shivered in 25-below-zero cold and the Weather Bureau said the ice-laden air would extend over Wyoming, Colorado and the middle Plains States and drop temperatures near zero through the Middle West.

Montana ranchers, caught with a 15 per cent surplus due to slow livestock markets, began a desperate battle to reach 10,000 to 15,000 head of cattle and sheep trapped in giant drifts.

THE RANCHERS SAID the "fatality rate for strays would probably be severe," but said past experience had taught them to be prepared by laying in plenty of feed.

Rescue parties spent the day bringing stranded hunters out of the mountains. By nightfall, the only hunters unaccounted for were two Montana State University students, Bob Amick, Jr., of Billings and Richard Maxwell of Warm Springs.

Joe E. Brown Cracks Boites

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Comedian Joe E. Brown, after 55 years in show business, made his night club debut Wednesday night at the Tropicana Hotel.

Declaring his act "definitely was not rigged," the 67-year-old funnyman went into an eccentric dance and a scene from the play "Harvey."

CC Lions Set Breakfast

First of the Season Slated for Sunday

CATHEDRAL CITY — First of four breakfasts planned for the season by the Cathedral City Lions Club will be from 7:30 to 11 a.m. Sunday, Orvil Zappe, publicity director, said today.

Water Service Hearing Set For Nov. 19

LOS ANGELES — The California Public Utilities Commission will hold a hearing Nov. 19 in Palm Springs on the application of the Palm Desert Water Company to extend service to an area of several hundred acres in the vicinity of Palm Desert.

The hearing will be before Commissioner Theodore Jenner and Examiner Kent C. Rogers at 9:30 a. m. in the American Legion Hall, 400 North Belardo Road.

The breakfasts, which have become an annual affair, are open to all — adults, $1.50 and children .75 cents, Zappe said.

SUNDAY'S breakfast will be at the Cathedral Market parking lot. The price for the breakfast includes all one can eat, Zappe said.

Profits from the breakfasts are used to finance many of the club's activities, such as sponsoring the Boy Scout and Cub Scouts of Cathedral City, milk tickets for the needy at the local school, Christmas baskets for the needy at Christmas, Zappe said.

THE LIONS CLUB also sponsors various student speakers and contributes to scholarships of ISO-MATA at Idyllwild.

Members of the club prepare the breakfast with the scouts of Troop 81 helping to serve. The scouts will also have a small camp site set up for viewing.

Madison makes sure Cobb gets hat on good for breakfast at the Cathedral Market parking lot in Cathedral City from 7:30 to 11 a.m. Saturday. Breakfast is open to all. Adults, $1.50—children 75 cents. (Desert Sun Photo).

Highway Tip: Yield Right-of-Way

"It is better to yield than to take the right-of-way."

So commented Captain L. W. Watson commander of the California Highway Patrol's Indio area today in discussing driving faults that usually have disastrous effects.

"Violation of the right-of-way provisions of the vehicle code is second only to excessive speed as the cause of traffic accidents," Captain Watson continued. "Probably the most frequent violation of right-of-way occurs at intersections that have neither traffic signals nor stop signs."

Highway Patrol records show that during 1958 more than half of the collisions causing death or injury were between vehicles entering the intersection from an angle. Someone failed to yield the right-of-way in all of these accidents."

Captain Watson suggested that if all drivers took the attitude that if there is any doubt at all the other fellow has the right-of-way, intersection collisions would soon be reduced to an absolute minimum.

TWO DISTRICTS ASK MOSQUITO CHECK

The Board of Supervisors decided this week to abandon consideration of the entire area of the county westerly from Cabazon as a mosquito abatement district and to consider instead districts for the two areas in which representatives made known their desire for inclusion.

They set Nov. 23 at 2 p. m. as time for a hearing on the two districts, one in the Hemet-San Jacinto area; the other in the northwest section of the county. Boundaries of the Hemet-San Jacinto area will include the elementary school district of Nuview as well as those of Hemet and San Jacinto.

School districts in the area proposed for the district in the northwestern part of the county are Highgrove, Riverside, Corona, Alford, West Riverside, Glen Avon, Pedley and Union Joint.

The supervisorial chamber was crowded with all but a few clamoring for action to halt the increasing mosquito and gnat menace in some areas. One irate gentleman expostulated, "I had sooner be bled to death financially than physically!"

Local Needs First

Attention of all residents is called to an important change in fund raising campaigns here this year.

Returning to the basic idea in its founding, the Palm Springs Community Chest is seeking money exclusively for local agencies which are dependent upon public contributions for their operation.

It has been emphasized that no "outside" groups are being included in order to make it possible to concentrate on raising the $80,000 quota needed to support the work of the eight local organizations regularly represented.

These are Welfare and Friendly Aid ... including local heart and cancer funds, Desert Museum, Safety Council, Youth Center, Boys Club, Camp Fire Girls, Boy Scouts and Girl Counts.

Community Chest directors state that the change to a purely local campaign was decided upon for two major reasons. First, that the community should properly take care of its own local needs and after that give independently to whatever district, state, national and world organizations as residents here may individually desire. Second, that it is next to impossible to include all organizations in a "united" campaign due to the number, variety and frequency of solicitations desired by outside agencies.

Certainly the directors are correct in placing needs of local organizations first. Experience of other fund raising campaigns here in recent years has demonstrated that there are always a number of solicitations aside from the Community Chest.

It is to be hoped that residents will respond readily and generously to the needs of local organizations to the end that the community quota will be raised in a comparatively short time.

Promptness in sending in your contribution will lessen the work of the volunteers and speed a successful conclusion.

Legend of Watutsi sel of the London UPI bureau has spent some time with the Watutsi tribe in Africa, now engaged in a battle of survival with the Bahutus who rose from serfdom to kill hundreds of their giant masters. In the following dispatch he tells of their rise to near god-like status—and their fall.

By ROBERT MUSEL
 LONDON (UPI)—A David and Goliath war is being fought in Ruanda-Urundi, next door to the Belgian Congo, and what is dying with the Watutsi warriors is the legend of their invincibility.

The Bahutus, who are a people of medium height, are killing off their masters of 300 years—the giant Watutsi, one of the strangest and most fascinating tribes on earth.

I SPENT SOME time among them in one of their capital towns, Astrida, where the Watutsi—who prefer that spelling to the Americanized Watutsi—have ruled for three centuries over the cool hills of their beautiful land.

They came down out of Egypt or Ethiopia centuries ago, bringing with them the lyre-horned cattle exactly like those depicted on ancient Egyptian tombs. And their legend of invincibility had protected them ever since.

WITHOUT REALLY fighting a battle the skinny giants, many of them seven feet and over, made slaves of the pygmy Bahutus (four feet high) and subject peoples of the Bahutus.

They have brought in the pygmies and their blowguns and poisoned darts to aid them in their battle for survival.

The Watutsi are people of tremendous presence. Their faces are delicately chiseled, their swaying walk gracefully impressive. To emphasize their height they wear Romanesque togas draped down from the shoulder.

THE BATWAS and Bahutus had never seen anything like them. They accepted instantly that these towering invaders must be the great warriors they said they were. And the Watutsi, without throwing a spear or firing a poisoned arrow, shrewdly added to the legend—for they are most remarkable people.

For example they have large drums decorated with souvenirs separated from alleged battle victims. No one knows where they got these private mementoes—since no one can remember that they ever fought a war before this one—but the sight of the drums was enough to make every male pygmy and Bahutu a more devoted servant.

INGENIOUS PEOPLE the Watutsi, for 300 years they parlayed one bluff after another into a life of luxurious indolence, never raising a hand to light a pipe or pick up the gourd of banana beer while one of their slaves was around.

The lazy life did the Watutsi no good as a race. They were racked with disease and declining in numbers due to their deficient diet of banana beer and cereals—they do not keep cattle for meat but for social position. There are stories that during a great famine forty years ago some even died alongside their cattle rather than eat them.

Meanwhile the hardworking Bahutus were multiplying and acquiring political leaders who had shaken off the old taboos about the Watutsi. Now that Ruanda-Urundi will be given its freedom by Belgium in a year or so, the Bahutus are striking at their old masters to ensure that control of the land will be in their hands.

This Side Of The Sun

By Mrs. G.

This should be started With a verse, In fact, I don't think I'd do worse.

By that I mean that any jingle I might write to start off one of these columns would not jangle any more than what Mr. G., as he is known politely, writes.

For those who just came in, whenever Friday and the 13th come together, Phat, as he is known unpolitely, does not write one of these things.

Friday, the 13th, being a jinx day, he keeps his fingers crossed all day.

OH, I ALMOST forgot. I was instructed that every eight or nine lines, which makes about two inches of type. I must throw in an 's' which means a space, and start the next paragraph with a few words in capitals. The boys in the back shop will know what to do with the 's', he added.

"And write short paragraphs," he said. "But that sounds so choppy," I demurred.

"Well, it's this way," was the explanation. "When you write short paragraphs, chances are that five out of eight will end with just one word on the last line. That leaves a lot of vacant space you don't have to fill."

"And when you have 600 words to write, that counts."

"Anyway you look at it, it's 8 and 5 to bet."

"I thought this was a column, not a horse race," I said.

"Better than a horse race," he replied. "At least, if you don't win, you can't help but show."

THERE, I FORGOT again. But there's that little 's' and the capital letters.

If this column is not letter perfect, it is because this little portable of mine is still convalescing from that swag around the country it took with Phat last July.

It was in sorry shape when he brought it back but by making the typewriter repair man happy and able to meet the payments on his car, it operates again.

But it still trembles when Phat walks by.

He has a venerable old typewriter in his den which he uses on weekends and during summer vacations. He can't take that with him on trips. It might fall apart. It is patched up with baling wire, Scotch tape and the 'I' key is reinforced with two paper clips.

But he wouldn't trade it for the newest two-tone pastel shade typewriter.

I JUST CAN'T seem to remember to drop in that 's'.

It is peculiar that, while he makes free use of my delicate portable, drops into newspaper offices all over the country and, without asking leave, sits down and writes, let anybody make a pass at that old mill (as he calls it) and I have to close the windows to protect the ears of the neighboring children.

Have just been informed that I am lucky. This year there were three Friday, the 13th. Next year only one, in May.

STAN DELAPLANE:

Good-By Blues

Here we are at Friday the 13th again. A most unlucky day. I don't feel unlucky, actually. I feel excellent. Things have been going very well.

However, we cannot argue with custom. Let us spread a little gloom around.

FRIDAY HAS always been considered unlucky. It was named for a Norwegian goddess with the unlucky name of Frigg.

The Romans—and look how unlucky they got; the Romans called the day after Venus, goddess of love. Most people in love figure they are unlucky. And people not in love think they are unlucky. So much for love.

MANY OF OUR sovereign States choose Friday to jolt the accused with an uncomfortable number of volts of electrical current.

It is terribly unlucky to sit in a wired seat. Avoid it. Especially on Friday. Because that is the day they do it.

IN MY SALAD DAYS, I took this day much more seriously. We went to school, skipping carefully into the open spaces of the concrete sidewalk.

"Step on a crack, you'll break your mother's back," we hollered.

This was true all year long. But on Friday the 13th, it was especially true.

IF A BLACK CAT crossed our path, we would go all the way around the block to avoid crossing his unlucky path.

We would not walk under a ladder for anything.

If you spilled salt on this day, you could just give up. Throwing a little over your left shoulder helps on ordinary days. But a day like this—nothing.

MEANWHILE, BACK at the Roman ranch. The Romans did not believe that love was unlucky—or Friday either, I guess, since they named the day for Venus.

When love ran unlucky, they just got out the old love potion.

LAFF - A - DAY

"BOO-O-O-O-O-O!"

MIKE CONNOLLY:

K's Non-Humor

HOLLYWOOD—Hosted at a Hollywood reception by Warner Bros. boss Jack L. Warner, Vice President Nixon asided to several of us at the party an interesting item that seems to sum up Nikita Khrushchev's NON-sense of humor. Or perhaps his single-track mind.

At any rate, here 'tis: The Veep said he tried to inject some fun into the recent meetings of Eisenhower and Khrushchev at Camp David. During the first "lunch break" from the meetings, in Mr. K's presence, Nixon said to me, jokingly, "Mr. President, there's one thing the Russians have that we could use—and that is the national one-month vacation given to all Russian Government employees who reach the age of 50."

IKE, ALSO jovial, said fine, but he doubted if even then he could escape the phone calls that come pouring in all day in Washington.

Mr. K, playing it straight, said, "It's true we don't have as many telephones in Russia as you have here in the United States of America, but some day soon we will have as many—and it won't be long after that till we have MORE!" And right then and there, said Nixon, was when he decided not to "make with the jokes" any more for Nikita's sake.

THE KIM NOVAK—Richard Quine romance is shaky, apparently because of her interference in "Strangers When We Meet" (she's starring, he's directing)—"tennyrate, Quine played it cool one night away from the stage last week by attending a birthday party for his ex-wife, Barbara Bushman. Not only that, he picked up his ex-mother-in-law and brought her to the blast!

Phyllis Standish tells me she's slaving over something patriotic in Christmas decorations—guided mistletoe.

JOAN COARN, never one to let the philanthropic activities of Harry Karl surpass her own, just went her just-divorced husband one better. The widow of the Columbia Pictures prexy dipped into the Harry Cohn Memorial Foundation coffers for a $15,000 contribution to the Los Angeles Youth Education Fund of James Francis Cardinal McIntyre.

Jack Benny, saddling up for a swing around the nation's Stradivarius circuit, had to bow out of "The Billionaire" because of his concert tour. He was set for a "cameo part" in which he was supposed to teach Greg Peck, playing a musical comedy hopeful, how to be a comedian. His part has been inherited by Milton Berle, no slouch himself in that field.

THE REAL INSIDE dirt in why so many top actresses have refused to play the role of Ruth's mother in "The Story of Ruth" at 20th-Fox—and it's one of the best parts in the picture—is that they refuse to take second place in the billing to the star of the film, newcomer Elaine Eden. Those who've spurned it so far are Helen Hayes, Irene Dunne, Ann Harding and Wendy Hiller.

Prentice-Hall paid Bob Cummings a $5,000 advance on his biography, "How to Stay Young and Vital."

The Andrews Sisters are still writing their life stories too, and all under one cover of course. I asked Laverne why it's taking so long. Said she: "It took us three years just to agree on the title—'Relatively Speaking!'"

CHANNEL CHATTER—Orson Welles is taking bows because he refused to accept a $170,000 "guarantee" to appear on a TV quiz show. But isn't the real reason he spurned it because he'd already had his fill of Congressional investigations "way back in the days of radio, following his famous "Martian scare?"

Screen Gems signed Ben Blue and pretty June McCall to tangle in some Scotch Tape television commercials for the Yuletide trade.

Pretty Joanna Lee took time out from acting to write a Bachelor Father segment for her friend, "Father" John Forsythe. "I didn't write a part into it for me," said Miss Lee, a pretty Phi Beta Kappa, "because the more I write, the more I see why it's so hard to cast me in good parts—I'm just not easy to describe!"

I RECEIVED a telegram from Lucia Perrigo of Chicago's Pump Room: "Ruth Roman flew out from California, received her Sarah Siddons Award for her acting in 'Two for the Seesaw,' and flew right out again to New York, where she will co-star in a TV spec, 'The Philadelphia Story,' with Diana Lynn. Diana is now married to Ruth's former husband, Mortimer Hall. Question arises—will they both act like ingenues?"

Dean Martin signed for a December date in Las Vegas. His contract provides for one night off—Dec. 13. That's the night on which a group of Beverly Hills matrons called The Italian Women's Club will stage a banquet called "A Night with Dino." Dino will fly to Los Angeles for the evening to emcee the affair, whose chairlady is Mrs. Angela Corcetti. And you can bet your bottom pizza Dino will be there because Angela is his mother.

"THROWAWAY LINE" on the Giveaways: Congressional investigators, I'm told, are gearing to investigate something besides quizzes—Giveaway shows (such as The Price Is Right)—on the grounds that the gifts go to the most "colorful" characters who appear on these shows.

Bob Hope hawks it: "I hear there's a shakeup coming in the movies now, because of all that publicity Evelyn Rudie got when she flew out to see Mamie Eisenhower—Evelyn gets the title role in 'Lolita' and Tuesday Weld will play her mother!"

'Payola' Ruining Some Kids

NEW YORK — Eddie Fisher looked so cheerful having dinner with Liz Taylor that somebody said, "What's he so happy about? He's not on TV any more." A shrewdly said, "That's why!" The Jack Webbs and Joan Crawford saw "The Miracle-Worker," then they got little Patty Duke's autograph. "For our kids," they explained.

The payola-probers in Washington and New York will ruin about six Tin Pan Alley reputations. Kid singers'll learn they got famous not for their gittars or great voices but through payoffs, or "pieces" of their contracts, and their hearts will be broken.

Jackie Gleason was pouring at a party at his Peekskill Round House (for Milton Berle, Buddy Hackett, and others) and didn't get to watch himself and Brendan Behan on "Small Wonder" when the Irish playwright appeared to be stinking. Gleason taped it a month ago. He assured me this crack "He's coming through fine here — 100 proof" was said as a joke: "I couldn't hear him very well and didn't know if he was loaded," J.C. insisted. Gleason wants to do Behan's life story on B'way. "I want to do something dramatic and his life's certainly been dramatic," Gleason said.

One of the Wash'n. quiz witnesses—who paid celebrities to attend his parties in another city—offered Steve Allen $3,000 to come to his New Year's soiree. Steve refused. But other stars were paid $1,000 to $2,000 to be party guests—and were "booked" as such through a famous talent agency... Lynn Dalton, a Taffy Tuttle-type who used to be hostess on "The $64,000 Challenge," saw a gal on 5th Ave. in the new French Look and said, "She looks like she's got on shorts with a plunging neckline."

A feller named Feller—John Feller, of Forest Hills—told his son the other day: "Johnnie, you've got an exam coming up and I want you to study for it real hard—after all, this is no TV quiz!"

World-traveler Toots Shor phoned from Florence, Italy, and talked about $36 worth. "Europe isn't so different than America," he said, "except that in my store we drank booze and in the stores here they drink wine."

No Fanfare--But Romanoff's Opens

The little guy with the big smile and the big menu opened his rock-rimmed restaurant on Highway 111 here last night with the usual run-of-who's-who on hand to help make things festive. Onetime film extra Mike Romanoff unveiled his Romanoff's On-the-Rocks (at the southern tip of the Palm Springs area) with no fanfare, no frills — just the unimpeachable decorum that has marked his restaurants here and in Beverly Hills.

THE LITTLE PRINCE made a point of explaining that he had no immediate plans for entertainment in the huge and severe dining room and bar that overlooks the Palm Springs region.

The words were scarcely out of his mouth before darsen Sammy Kahn and Jimmy Van Heusen were seated at the Romanoff's piano, doubling up on one of their new ones.

MAITRE d' MARCEL and a hand-picked crew of waiters — most of them familiar faces to desert area epicures — dealt out the Romanoff menus (14 inches wide by 23 inches long) to a list of personages that also included onetime film producer Harry Joe Brown, Desert Sun Society Editor Hildy Crawford, the Fred Mottles, Ann Douglas, Murray Wall, former film star Joan Woodbury Wilcox and many others.

Inscrutable is the word for Romanoff. And yet he looked almost pleased with the results of last night's opening On-the-Rocks. —G.L.

RED NEWSPAPER BRANDS 'LOLITA' AS CZARIST PLOT

MOSCOW (UPI)—A Soviet literary newspaper suggests that Russian emigre author Vladimir Nabokov must have gotten his idea for his best-selling American novel "Invitation to a Beheading" from Rasputin, the woman-chaser of the last Czarist court.

The newspaper, "Literature and Life," rapped as "scandalous" the story of a man's attraction for a 12-year-old girl. "And where do (the publishers) find this Vladimir Nabokov?" demanded the article. "Before becoming the spiritual father of American youth the White Guard (anti-Revolutionist) Nabokov invented anti-Soviet hash appearing on the notorious 'Voice of America'."

Television in Review

Television Finds Some New Words

By FRED DANZIG
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — Television discovered some new words Wednesday night: Abortion, birth control, contraceptives.

These are words that have been kicking around for awhile, but normally don't show up on prime TV network time. Yet, the hour-long documentary in the CBS reports series, "The Population Explosion," took a chance and assumed it had grown-ups in the audience.

THE NETWORK is still in business today, at last report and I should think CBS is feeling a bit proud of itself for presenting this memorable hour. The highly-controversial subject of family planning received a thoroughly engrossing, professional presentation.

Filmed mostly in India, where family planning has become a life-or-death matter for the government, the program dealt with the political, statistical and human sides of unchecked population growth and reasons for its going unchecked.

THE NETWORK made it clear that it didn't wish to become embroiled in the birth control arguments, merely wanted to stir up more public debate on the subject. But the camera did the editorializing. There were no scenes of large, well-fed Indian families on this show; only forlorn-looking groups. It was a memorable show and helped restore my confidence in this beat-up new TV business.

LOUIS JOURDAN, a Frenchman who has seen fit to discard most of his accent, presided over a lackluster NBC-TV special that originated from a hotel in Miami Beach, Fla., Wednesday night.

Confronted by a badly-lit stage, fighting poor acoustics, the performers rushed through an hour that offered a bare minimum of freshness, style or entertainment.

BOBBY DARIN, a boy who has transposed Mussolini's balcony style to the pop singing field, wiggled through "Mack the Knife" for the umpteenth time and Abbe Lane also wiggled through her songs.

I think Darin out-wiggled her. Abbe was in good form, dressed-wise, but not voice-wise. Jane Morgan also sang. Jerry Lewis had an off-night as a comedian but was entertaining when dancing. Jourdan managed to smile and be pleasant through it all. Stout fellow.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Marlene Dietrich, besieged with TV offers through the years, has made up her mind. She'll start filming a one-hour color special, "Dietrich in Paris," on Nov. 27. Orson Welles will produce the show in Paris for Bartlett TV Productions. Negotiations now are in progress for a sponsor, network and air date.

NBC-TV plans to repeat Ingrid Bergman's "The Turn of the Screw" next spring... Bob Denver, who played "beatnik" May-Krebs on CBS-TV's Dobie Gillis series until drafted in real life, has been released from Service and rejoins the Gillis crew any episode now.

Jack Benny will be a special guest on George Gobel's Sunday, Dec. 20 CBS-TV half hour... Walter Welezak stars in "The Borrowed Christmas" by Ludwig Bemelmans, one of four parts in NBC-TV Hallmark Hall of Fame Special on Sunday, Dec. 13.

GILBERT ROLAND PLAYHOUSE STAR

Gilbert Roland stars as a Mexican-born law officer who challenges the power of the most influential and ruthless cattle baron in the Arizona Territory, in "Border Justice" on "Westinghouse Desilu Playhouse" Friday, Nov. 13 (CBS Television Network, 9-10 p.m. pst.).

Co-starring with Roland are Rita Lynn as Elena, Barton MacLane as Wentworth, Bruce Gordon as Bolton and Neile Adams as Lupe.

INCENSED AT Wentworth's heartless attitude toward his hired help, El Patron (Roland) arrests and jails the powerful cattleman on a minor charge. The devoted Elena warns El Patron that he is flirting with disaster by publicly humiliating such a dangerous foe.

Wentworth imports a high-powered lawyer named Bolton to free him, and demands that El Patron be prosecuted for false arrest and trespassing. Realizing that El Patron is so widely loved by the people that they could never obtain a conviction against him, Wentworth and Bolton hatch a plot to destroy his reputation.

ALSO IN THE cast are Armand Alzamora as Ramon, George Mitchell as Lonnigan, John Har-

Durante Comments On TV Programming

By TOM DANSON

HOLLYWOOD: Jimmy Durante today revealed he'd "like to have the public pick what they would like to see on television," instead of agencies forcing certain types of shows on the viewers.

"The only choice the viewers have," Jimmy told me, "is between those shows that already exist on television."

Jimmy is currently rehearsing TOM DANSON for his upcoming NBC colorcast, Dec. 6, his second TV special of the season. His guest stars include Ray Bolger, Jane Powell, Jimmie Rodgers and Eddie Hodges.

"When I was on TV in 1951 to 1955," he recalled, "I only had one guest. Once in awhile I had two. We used to do sketches, production numbers and the guest would have quite a workout, and the people loved it. Nowadays, each TV special has to have four or six guests who do just one number, maybe a little more, but certainly not enough to satisfy a viewer."

Jimmy went on to say, "I'd like to see the people have a chance to make a choice and have the networks give 'em shows they want. I think the people would welcome a chance to ask for certain kinds of shows. The agencies run the whole show, but the guy who twists the dial ought to have something to say."

LOCAL DEBUT
William Bendix, star of his own revue, will be making his local night club debut when he opened at the Coconut Grove this week. The show, starring Bendix and Rose Marie with the sensational juggling Half Brothers, Harold Lloyd, Jr., and the beautiful "Six Bendix Starlets" is set for a three week engagement.

ANY QUESTIONS
Q: Can you tell why daytime TV plays are called soap operas? — Tillie G. (Glendale)

A: Daytime serials were tagged "soaps" or "soap operas" in the early days of radio (remember radio?) because they were all sponsored by soap companies. Today, they are more politely referred to — in the TV studios at least — as daytime serials.

Q: Will Jerry Lewis and Dean Martin get together again as partners? — Carole D. (Napa)

A: It looks as though their rift is a permanent one. At least as long as both of them keep on doing well as "singles." It could be that they would get together again if the going got tough for the each of them.

LUXURIOUS CABALLEROS Estates, a new $1 million resort home development, is now under construction in the exclusive Tamarisk Road area, off Caballeros. Developed by Roy Fey, owner of Desert Skies apartment hotel, Caballeros Estates boasts 27 individually styled homes priced in the $40,000 class. Designed by Architects Wexler and Harrison, and decorated by Antone Dalu, the new resort development is the first of two large-scale Palm Springs projects planned by Fey. Realtors Sam Franks and John Seamans are Caballeros Estates sales agents.

CHECKING THE QUALITY of building materials in his new Caballeros Estates homes, Roy Fey, center, tells Realtors Sam Franks, left, and John Seamans that "nothing but the best" is going into the construction of 27 new luxury dwellings.

Franks and Seamans are sales agents for the new Fey homes, all of which are keyed to emphasize the "indoor-outdoor" style and comfort of desert living. (Desert Sun Photo).

GARDENING IN THE DESERT

Bottle Tree Usage Told

We have lately been queried as to the origin of the Bottle Tree, how it will thrive in the desert, and its quality of drought and heat resistance. There are several species of the Bottle Tree, all of the Sterculia family, somewhat allied to the cacao or cocoa tree and native to Australia.

The Australian Bottle Tree (S. repens) is noted for the globular expansion of its trunk which gives the aspect of a huge bottle and the limbs appearing to grow from its mouth. The enlarged stems are hollow and contain a quantity of water which travelers and the Australian natives sometimes secure for use by cutting through the soft wood.

THE MAPLE-LEAVED. Bottle Tree, or Flame Tree (S. diversifolia) the stem of which tapers from a broad base, is also a native of Australia. It is often planted for ornament in California and other mild climates. The seed of various species are edible, some contain an illuminant oil, and the bark contains a tough, waterproof fibre suitable for mats and cordage.

We have not come in close contact with either of these species and doubt that they would thrive satisfactorily in the desert. However, there are two other species that will thrive here. The Flaming Bottlebrush, botanically named Callistemon lanceolatus because of its lanceolate leaves, has a vigorous growth and its drought-resistant qualities make it a plant that is ideal for desert growth.

IT SEEMS TO thrive in rich soil or poor soil so it can be classified as adapted to hot and dry locations where other shrubs might give up the struggle; under the poorest of growing conditions it vigorously throws out long shoots so sturdy and lengthy that they must be pruned in March or April — otherwise it would develop a very scraggy appearance. It is an evergreen, and for the biggest part of each year is decorated with its own red flowers; hence the name Flaming Bottlebrush. To cap it all it is not difficult to espalier.

Our choice of the many growths that go under the name of Bottle Tree or Bottlebrush would be the Weeping Bottlebrush, or Callistemon viminalis, still another import from "down under."

Personally, despite its claim to drought and heat resistance, we would be inclined to assure the supply of food and moisture with which a tree of this type will show at its best. Here and there it might be seen as a shrub, but to get the best out of this graceful and (most of the time) flamboyant tree, its irrigation should be at regular intervals especially during the summer heat.

WITH THIS CARE it can be classified as a stunning decoration, especially if surrounded by green lawn. We have had it pointed out to us as a Weeping Willow and found it necessary to correct our friend's statement. Particularly, no Weeping Willows come from Australia from where the Bottle Tree was first imported. In fact, more than half of the Weeping Willow species are native to North America.

Around this time of year it might pay you to watch the new growth on citrus trees, rose bushes and the like. Sometimes shoots that appear sturdy and worthwhile pop up from below the bud union; the result of allowing these offshoots to grow will soon show in the citrus growth. Don't prune this type of growth, cut it right back to the spot of its origin if you cherish your tree. The same goes for roses where the root stock has sent out shoots. Wipe them out right away and be sure your cut is tight to the trunk.

Tribe, Arabs Clash Tonight In Traditional 'Big Game'

First DV Grid Title At Stake

Coachella Valley's Arabs and Palm Springs High School Indians tangle tonight at 8 o'clock at Coachella in their traditional Big Game and this time it also carries the added importance of having a direct bearing on the first football championship of the new Desert Valley League.

The Indians have a 1-0-1 record in DVL play to date and the Arabs are 2-0-0. Banning is 2-0-1 but plays Indio High this afternoon at Indio.

THE BANNING - INDIO game will have no bearing on the standings so no matter what happens (and Banning is a top-heavy favorite) the Broncos will have a 2-0-1 mark tomorrow.

An Indian victory would tie them with Banning for the lead and shove the Arabs down into third place.

Coach Clare Ballagh is going all out to achieve this victory and will field his strongest team tonight.

IN THE BACKFIELD he will have Tony Gomez, Bill Smith, Jim Hill and Fred Cockerham.

Jeff Rollins and Gus Walton will be at the ends and the interior line will be named by Ed Erie, J. D. and J. C. Walton, Jim Garland and Harry Karusich.

Ballagh had little trouble in bringing the team up for this one. Because of the importance of the win and because it is the traditional Big One, the Tribe wants it.

THE TWO TEAMS have met but one common foe this year - Yucaipa.

Coachella walloped Yucaipa 40 to 0 while the Indians ran over Yucaipa 42 to 6.

The Arabs will have the slight advantage of playing on their home field but a large contingent of Indian fans will make the trek to Coachella to cheer on the team.

In other games today, Yucaipa goes to Twenty-nine Palms for a night game and Banning goes to Indio for a 3 p.m. game.

Tonight's Palm Springs-Coachella game is slated for 8 o'clock.

CV Amateurs To Compete At Tamarisk

Practice rounds were under way today at Tamarisk Country Club as golfers from one end of the desert to the other sought to improve their game for the Eighth Annual Coachella Valley Amateur tournament scheduled for tomorrow and Sunday at the club.

The program calls for 36 holes of medal play, 18 tomorrow and 18 Sunday.

Ellsworth Vines, Tamarisk CC pro, is in charge of the event and expects more than 100 entries.

Low gross and low net prizes will be awarded in two divisions, 0-12 handicaps and 13 and over.

Jim Spindler is the defending champion in the low net bracket and Larry Norton will defend his low gross title, won last year.

Arababes Dump Papoose Grids For First Loss

This 60-page booklet includes well, it had to happen.

Palm Springs High School Jayvee team dropped its first game of the 1959 season last night when they bowed to Coachella Valley's Arababes, 6 to 19 on the local gridiron.

According to Dick Hough, assistant coach for the Papoose grids, "I guess the boys just weren't up for this one."

THE JAYVEES still have a chance for a tie, at least, for the title as Coachella meets Banning next Thursday in the closing game of the season.

Head coach Bob Gilmore's Papoose outfit goes to Twenty-nine Palms for its final game.

Last night, Palm Springs scored in the first three minutes of play when Henry Heuck went over for three yards out. They took a six-pointing lead into the second quarter when Coachella tied it up and it was 6-6 at recess.

IN THE FINAL HALF, however, the visitors banged over twice, converting once, for 13 points and a 19-6 lead.

Prior to last night's loss, the local JVs had won six straight and now hold a 6-1 mark for the season.

First Minnehaha Tourney Staged At Indian Wells

Winners of the first Minnehaha tournament at Indian Wells Country Club Thursday were Mrs. R. C. Harris and Mrs. R. T. Pierson who posted a low net card of 73-71-144.

In second place were Mrs. Viola Morse and Mrs. Bess Fisher with a 70-76-146.

Mrs. Jean Crux and Mrs. Helen Seales were tied with them with 74-72-146.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lampson and Mrs. Bi Johnson posted an 82-77-159.

It was the first annual Minnehaha tournament of the Indian Wells auxiliary and trophies were awarded the winners.

Baseball's Cold War Erupts Into Hot One

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball's cold war today erupted into a hot controversy between the major leagues and the new Continental circuit.

William A. Shea, founder of the Continental League, opened the shooting battle by charging that the withdrawal of the Dallas-Fort Worth application for a franchise from the newly-organized league is "part of the program of the American League and baseball to harass us."

Shea further alleged that millionaire contractor J. W. Bateson took the Texas franchise application out of the area because Bateson "has been sold by someone on the idea that he has a chance of getting into the American League."

Bateson, who has been in baseball only two years as operator of the Dallas franchise in the Texas League and then in the American Association, denied that any major league interests had influenced his decisions.

"The only selling done," said Bateson, "was by the people of Dallas and Fort Worth. They sold me the idea that there wasn't enough enthusiasm to insure success."

PRO GRIDDERS PREPARE FOR 'GET EVEN' GAME

This is "get even" Sunday in the National Football League. All six games match teams which have met before this season. Sweeping the home-and-home series with a rival during the season is one of the league's toughest tasks.

That means six coaches are "running scared" Sunday and five of them have teams in the thick of the division races.

Coach Red Hickey's San Francisco Forty-Niners, two games in front in the Western Division, provide a typical example of Sunday's setup in their clash with the Bears at Chicago. The Bears 3-4 seek revenge for a 20-17 defeat suffered last month at San Francisco. The odds makers figure they'll get it, tabbing the Forty-Niners 6-1, two-point underdogs.

Coach Weeb Ewbank's Baltimore Colts, defending league and Western Division champions, are closest to San Francisco. The Colts 4-3 are 9 point favorites to down the Green Bay Packers, 3-4, at Milwaukee.

Coach Jim Lee Howell's New York Giants, 6-1, must whip the Pittsburgh Steelers, 2-4-1, to assure themselves of maintaining

Top Gridiron Trio Favored Over Rivals

SC, Syracuse and Texas to Remain Unbeaten, Belief

By FRED DOWN

United Press International

Syracuse, Texas and Southern California are expected to continue their march toward unbeaten and untied seasons while Louisiana State, Northwestern and Penn State try to rebound Saturday on a college football card filled with important conference and traditional contests.

Several of the lucrative Jan. 1 bowl berths could be decided but it's considered more likely that such close races as the Big 10, Pacific Coast Conference and Southeastern Conference battles will continue down to the final week of the campaign.

SYRACUSE, the new national leader, is rated a whopping 36-point choice over Colgate, Texas is rated six points over Texas Christian and Southern California is 14 points over Baylor. Indications now are that Syracuse and second-ranked Texas will go on to a Cotton Bowl showdown that would be one of the most attractive bowl pairings of all time.

Colgate has won only one of seven games while Syracuse has rolled past Kansas, Maryland, Navy, Holy Cross, West Virginia, Pittsburgh and Penn State.

Texas Christian has been coming fast since early-season losses to LSU and Arkansas but Texas is given the edge because of a more potent offense. Southern California, apparently en route to a perfect season, is competing only for the National championship since it is ineligible to play in the Rose Bowl.

LSU, BEATEN last Saturday after 19 straight victories, is a 22-point favorite over Mississippi State Saturday night. Northwestern is 6 over Michigan and Penn State is 18 points over Holy Cross.

LSU still has a strong chance to play in the Sugar Bowl. Northwestern is battling Wisconsin for the Big Ten title and the visitor's Rose Bowl bid and Penn State is expected to go to either the Liberty or Gator bowls.

Wisconsin, which tied Northwestern for the Big Ten lead last Saturday, is favored by 10 points over Illinois.

Washington, which still has the inside track for the West Coast's berth in the Rose Bowl if favored by six points over California but Oregon is rated no better than even money against Washington State. Washington and Oregon are in a two-team battle for the lucrative bid because of Southern Cal's ineligibility.

Two Share Lead In Ladies Play at O'Donnell Club

Mrs. Earl Thompson and Mrs. B. F. Shearer tied for the top spot in the weekly Ladies tournament at O'Donnell Golf Club, which was match play against par. Also tied, Mrs. Frank A. Purcell and Mrs. Arthur Rolapp were next.

Others in the event were the Mmes. Charles Baldwin, Thede Bradley, J. R. Townsend, Ralph Bramble, Daniel Wells, Lee Doud, James Wilson, Ralph Smith, George Roberson and Patty Petty.

The group is expecting the largest turn-out of the season to date at next Thursday's play.

LAFAYETTE, La. (UPI) — First round leaders Bob Watson and Jerry Pittman were out to build up a comfortable lead today in the $15,000 Lafayette Open golf tournament.

The pair carded five under par 66's Thursday to gain a one-stroke advantage over Walker Inman Jr. of Elgin Air Force Base, La., and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex.

OWENS TOP ATHLETE NEW YORK (UPI) — Jesse Owens, a track star of the 1930's, topped the polling Thursday that selected the best living athletes of the age to be honored at the first Bill Corum Memorial Dinner on Jan. 24, 1960. He drew 615 points.

Ladies Round-Up Event Scheduled at Thunderbird

Ladies Member Golf Round-Up gets under way at Thunderbird Country Club Sunday with the men getting in on the act the first day when a mixed Scotch foursome is on the schedule, two men and two women on each team.

Monday through Wednesday, the women take over in a 36-hole medal play event.

Tee off time is 8 a.m. Sunday and on the other three days.

BECAUSE OF THE LARGE field, approximately 274 being entered, it will be split and the women will play on any two days of the three allotted to the tournament.

Players will be here from all parts of the nation.

Night events will include a fashion show at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Thunderbird Country Club. Dorothy Gray of Palm Springs will conduct the show.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT there will be a chuckwagon dinner and the "Spectacular," a variety show put on by the Thunderbird Girls. Prizes will be presented at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Music will be provided both Tuesday and Wednesday.

The governor's wife, Mrs. Pat Brown, will participate in tournament play.

Mrs. Lou Manseau designed the invitations for the tournament and Mrs. Georgina Poston and Mrs. R. R. Myers, are co-chairmen for the show.

MRS. JACK KENASTON is club entertainment chairman; Mrs. George Holstein, treasurer; Mrs. H. H. Ridder, vice chairman; Mrs. S. P. Manasse, handicap chairman; Mrs. Ralph Waycott, and Mrs. L. L. Oakes, prize chairman; Mrs. Richard Gulich, rules chairman; and Mrs. Adolph Braemer is also on the tournament committee and Mrs. George Robeson is chairman of the happy hacker's.

Mrs. Allene Weismuller, last year's champion, from Lakeside, will participate.

In the low-handicap bracket the following are included: Mrs. Jan Tarbe, Mrs. J. S. Loveys, Mrs. John Lowe, Mrs. Fred Apostoli, Mrs. Mary Coughran, Mrs. Ruth McCulloch and Mrs. Alice Heffernan.

75 Turn Out for First Session of Tennis Clinics

Second session of the third annual Tennis Clinic conducted each Saturday on the high school courts from 9 to 11 a.m. will be held tomorrow with Dave Gillam, Racquet Club pro, in charge. Last week 75 youngsters between the ages of 9 and 14 attended the first session. Of these, 35 were returnees from last year's classes and 40 showed up for the first time.

Gillam explained the purpose of the Clinics, gave demonstration of strokes and then put the groups through their first competition.

GILLAM was assisted in the Clinic by Roy Grow of the recreation department and Mrs. Seamus Nunan.

The Clinics are held each Saturday morning from 9 to 11 and are open to all youngsters of the Palm Springs Unified School District between the ages of 9 and 14.

They are sponsored by the Desert Sun, the City Recreation Department and various service clubs.

POINTS EARNED at the first session follow:

123—Fred Rubin
100-100—Lloyd Chaisson, Latisa Chaisson, Andrea Edwards, Bob Turman, Dale Fritz, Vivian Price, Greg Hough, Shirley Janik Margo Morrison, Susan Morrison.

BOB SKEENE WON'T BE IN IT Eldorado, S.F. Poloists In Rematch Sunday

Eldorado and San Francisco Polo Clubs will stage a return grudge match Sunday at 2 p.m. at Eldorado Polo Fields, it was announced today.

Last Sunday Eldorado defeated San Francisco 6 to 3 but this Sunday will be minus the services of Bob Skeene, one of the three tennial players in the world.

SAN FRANCISCO objected to Skeene's presence on the Eldorado team, saying he was too strong. So Jack Conant, another well-known poloist will replace him. Bill Tevis, who was injured in last Sunday's play has recovered and will be in the lineup. Conant and Tevis, with Gail Medlicott and Dick Neville will make up the local team.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO, the same lineup which represented them last Sunday, will play — Leo Hulseman, Bob Smith, Allen White and Ted Pierce.

Hulseman, charter member of the Eldorado Polo Club and a leading Santa Barbara poloist, is from Chicago and is known as one of the top players in the country. A practice match, free to the public, will be played tomorrow afternoon at Eldorado Fields.

Tickets for Sunday's match may be obtained at the gate to the park.

Clark Leading In Gardena Open By One Stroke

GARDENA (UPI) — The second half of a large field teed off today in the $6,000 Gardena Valley Open Golf Tournament.

Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, the defending champion in the annual affair, was among top players going today. Others included Eric Monti, Jim Ferrier and Bob Duden.

Veteran Jimmy Clark, Los Angeles, shot a six-under-par 65 over the Western Avenue golf course, giving him a one-stroke lead in the opening round of the split field.

A NEW COMMUNITY service was inaugurated this week by the Pinafore Girls, a Palm Springs High School service club. The girls have organized a special group, known as the Servettes, to help with such community service organizations as the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society. Making Christmas dolls for the society here are, left to right, Linda Wells, Anne Siegel, Tina Farmer and Judith Heaglett. (Desert Sun Photo).

Pinafore Girls Give Aid in Public Service

Palm Springs High School's Pinafore Girls, a student service club, have added a new project to their club program.

A group of Pinafore Girls have been designated as "Servettes." They'll participate in community service projects, in addition to the club's regular school service programs.

These particular Pinafores will assist the Welfare and Friendly Aid Society with its Christmas toy project and will make favors and holiday decorations for the Riverside County Hospital and Pacific State Hospital.

Mrs. Dorothy Park, high school nurse and sponsor-advisor of the Pinafores, said she would like to have resort clubs and service organizations know that the Servettes are available for help with clerical work with various fund projects.

Any club officials wishing further information may call Mrs. Park or Pinafore chairman Jan Blumling at the high school.

YOUTH CONTACT NEEDS 'REALISM'

By LOUIS CASSELS

If churches want to do something about juvenile delinquency, they should approach the problem realistically. Sentimental and superficial programs may ease the consciences of church members, but they do more harm than good to disturbed children.

That advice comes from Dr. Edward E. Thornton, professor of pastoral care at the Institute of Religion, Houston, Tex. Dr. Thornton has made an intensive study of the failures and frustrations which churches often encounter in their attempts to help delinquent children. His findings, reported at a recent Southern Baptist youth counseling conference, are equally applicable to other denominations.

The first step toward effective church work in this field, Dr. Thornton said, is to abandon any moralistic or "punitive" approach to delinquent youth. Social scientists have amassed abundant proof, he said, that juvenile delinquency is not willful wickedness, but is "a symptom of emotional disturbance" in children who have been starved of parental love in the earliest years of life.

Loving the unloved is supposed to be the church's specialty. But it is neither easy nor simple to "communicate love" to disturbed children who have known nothing but hate and rejection. The task calls for "creative imagination" and "the courage to face facts." One of these facts is that "the emotion disturbance which begets delinquency is deeply set in the child's personality by the time he is eight years old." And the crucial factors in causing it are not the neighborhood, not the school, not a lack of church attendance, but the child's own immediate home environment and particularly his relationships with his parents.

This means, Dr. Thornton said, that churches must "find a way to reach pre-delinquent children between the ages of 5 to 8." And in searching out these children, they must look beyond "the little white cottages of suburbia" into the urban slums where poverty, overcrowding and broken homes vastly increase the likelihood of a child's being deprived of parental love.

When can a church do for these dispossessed children once it has established contact with them? It depends on how far they have drifted before they are found.

"All of the traditional ministries of the church"—including Sunday schools, youth activities, summer camps, recreational centers and sports programs—can be useful in giving pre-delinquent children the acceptance, love and understanding which is lacking in their home lives.

The so-called "sponsorship" plan, under which adult church members try to establish direct personal ties of friendship with individual children, can also be very helpful to pre-delinquents and even to first offenders and probationers.

But none of these measures will do any good for children who have already become "hard-core delinquents," Dr. Thornton said.

"The seriously disturbed child disrupts group activities so completely that their value is canceled out both for the group and for the troubled child himself." And he can't be reached by an adult sponsor, because he has learned to "play along in the game of comradeship with adults," manipulating them to his advantage, but never letting them have any "real influence" on him.

Bonus Mailed In Christmas Club Checks

Village Residents Saved $80,794.95 In Year Period

Clanging cash registers in the stores and mountains of gay packages in homes throughout California this Christmas season are indicated by Bank of America's 1959 Christmas Club figures announced by the bank today.

F. G. Ingram, manager of the Palm Springs branch, said 390 local residents have saved $80,794.95 between them toward their Christmas festivities.

ALL TOGETHER the bank will mail checks totaling $89,250,000 to approximately 533,000 thrifty Californians in mid-November.

The statewide figures are up from last year by more than three and one-half million dollars and 16,000 accounts.

DISTRIBUTION is made in November to enable customers to do their Christmas shopping early. The Christmas Club also is used by many savers as a source of ready cash for winter vacations or end-of-the-year expenses such as insurance and tax payments.

Poll Shows Nixon Is Way Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsweek Magazine says a poll by its political experts shows that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's chances of beating Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the GOP presidential nomination are "very dim indeed."

The magazine said the poll by its experts in the 30 states showed that "if Rockefeller wants the nomination at all, he must frankly say so, and start campaigning openly and hard. Rockefeller must woo the GOP pros, beguile the voters, shape sharp and definitive issues."

Florida Demo Named to CAB

CABLE TV GAINS CHAMBER THANKS

The board of directors of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce "voiced a vote of thanks" to the Palm Springs Translator Co. at the chamber's Nov. 5 meeting for the company's efforts to bring translator television to the desert area, Jimmy Cooper, chamber manager, said.

In a letter to the company, its president, Frank Bennett and employees, Cooper stated that the company has rendered "a definite community service."

The board added that the chamber hopes the company's current drive for donations to defray operating expenses during the coming year will be successful. Cooper said that many localities now being served would otherwise be unable to pick up a signal.

Discontinue Gaslight Gaieties after Ten Years Production

The Villain got the Heroine and the Old Homestead was sold off to satisfy the Mortgage this week, when Palm Springs Business Women's Club decided to discontinue its perennial "Gaslight Gaieties" that has been on the Palm Springs winter calendar for a decade.

Mrs. Freund Felicitated on Birthday

Among the many Scorpions celebrating birthdays this month, is Mrs. Walter (Dorothy) Freund whose birthday was Tuesday. Several of her friends dropped in unexpectedly to wish her "Happy Birthday" including Bill and Ed Hollingworth from Los Angeles, and many long distanced birthday felicitations as far away as Paris. Later in the evening Dorothy and Walter dined at the Dunes where the royal birthday treatment was extended by Ruby of the Dunes and the hostess Lucille, who are also Scorpions. Lucille's birthday was Monday and Ruby celebrates his Saturday.

the Club said a major factor in the decision was the difficulty of securing a suitable hall or theatre. Faced with the necessity of raising funds to assure continuance of Club projects, such as the annual Typewriter Award, supporting an "adopted daughter", donations to the Angel View Crippled Children's Foundation, the Guide Dogs for the Blind, and possibly undertaking the establishment of a YWCA in Palm Springs, the Club discussed ways and means, but failed to come to a decision. Following the business session, members viewed slides of Japan, taken by Munya Smoot this past summer, and Lola Wack gave an interesting travelogue, illustrated by pictures, of her European trip. Names of secret pals were drawn for the year. Hostess for the evening, Munya Smoot served cake and coffee on the new snack trays donated to the Club by the president Virgie Dragicevich.

Woman's Club Holds Smart Bridge Luncheon at Riviera

Palm Springs society was well represented Wednesday when members and friends of the Palm Springs Women's Club enjoyed the first of the season's glamorous bridge luncheons given at the beautiful new Desert Riviera Hotel.

Guests arriving for luncheon were greeted by Grace Steenberg, chairman, assisted by Mmes. Bow Herbert, Howard Matthews, Gerald Sanborn, Chester Matson, Herbert Burns and Miss Hazel Gross.

In the delightful blue and white dining room of the Desert Riviera, the tables were decorated in a Veteran's and Thanksgiving day theme with silken American flags on each table. Large red apples served as holders for the flags. Each guest was presented with white pens gift wrapped in red, white and blue.

Following the luncheon the Car of Ann Shop of Palm Springs presented a brilliant showing of resort clothes that truly represented California fashions on parade. Miss Kathleen Patrick was the coordinator, and the attractive models were from the John Robert Powers school. Music was furnished by the Palm Springs High School orchestra. Proceeds from this gala occasion will be used for the Palm Springs Woman's Club Scholarship Fund. This fund provides scholarships for students from the Palm Springs schools.

NEWS From CADILLAC-OLDSMOBILE CORNER

By Ed McCoubrey President Plaza Motors

"California Vehicle Code Section 22350 known as 'Basic Speed Law' says, 'No person shall drive a vehicle at a speed greater than is reasonable or prudent having due regard for the traffic on, and the surface and width of the highway, and in no event at a speed which endangers the safety of persons or property.' Also its companion code number 21654 states, 'Notwithstanding the legal speed limit, any vehicle proceeding upon a highway at a speed less than the normal speed of traffic moving in the same direction shall be driven in the right hand lane.' This means that right-of-way must be given to another car overtaking you on the highway regardless of the fact that the overtaking car may be exceeding the legal speed limit. These California Vehicle Codes were written for the safety of all motorists, and if understood and obeyed, will be a giant step in the reduction of accidents on our already overcrowded highways."

Palm Springs is different things to different people... some who come to play... find it very gay... while others head for the desert to sun and swim and golf... Now that they are gone... it can be told that we had visiting royalty this week... Prince Louis Ferdinand and Grand Duchess Kira and their 17-year-old daughter the Royal Princess Maria Cecilie... who flew over the Pole from Germany so that the Princess could be the guest of honor at WAIF's Imperial Ball in Los Angeles... They were here two days... Staying quietly at the Whittaker estate... recuperating from the rigors of being entertained royally...

During their brief stay here... the royal pair made one exception... and accepted an invitation to have champagne cocktails with a long-time acquaintance Georges Stoicesco... who is here for one of his periodic visits... Stoicesco... former Romanian ambassador to Japan... had known the Grand Duchess before her marriage (she was related to Romania's Queen Marie) and entertained the royal pair at dinner... when they visited Japan on their honeymoon in the late 30s... and the three were reminiscing Wednesday night... Lisa and John Gallois were invited to meet the visitors... with Stoicesco entertaining them in the Chateau V in the apartment of the owner Vidella Viglini... who was out of town at the time... and unable to attend...

The Prince... who is the grandson of Kaiser Wilhelm... would look quite a bit like his grandfather... with the addition of a helmet and the famous moustache... Tall and courtly he kissed my hand in continental fashion... while I was smiling politely and wondering how you address an Imperial Highness... When I asked him the question I had been saving up for him... "How do we resolve the United States-Russian situation in your country"... he smiled and said "Everybody go home"... The Grand Duchess... granddaughter of Queen Victoria... was in the kitchen arranging crackers on a plate and struggling with a jar of pate de fois gras... (Bill was a help with this)... She told me it was the first time she had put shoes on since she came to Palm Springs... and advised me that Copenhagen has the largest number of antique shops of any place in Europe... but expensive... She collects porcelain horses... and was interested in my old glass...

There was a small swimming party at the Whittaker home Wednesday afternoon... and the Glenn Austins... who had met them at the WAIF Ball... hosted a dancing party for the Princess that night...

Palm Springs teen agers invited to meet the teen age Princess... were... Leeann Howard, Cindy Bogert, Diane Jennings, Sandra Crawford, Elsinore Hilton, Susan Rolapp and Susie Sullivan... Denny Hicks, Jerry Malouf, Ronald Crawford, Vic Pine, Bill Talbot, Dennis Theriaue and Tyson Wyeihe...

The party which Debbie and Milton Prell gave at their Vespero Dr. home this week... was a birthday surprise for Noonie (Mrs. Joe) Hall... who was really surprised... Husband Joe just made it home from Las Vegas in time for the party (flights were a little off schedule)... and Noonie was excited over the John Morris painting... which he did in Paris this summer... that was a birthday gift from her sister Bobbie (Mrs. Bill) Perlberg (Bill is making a new picture and couldn't be there for the party)...

This was a very musical party... with Debbie, Noonie and Bobbie singing to the music of a Pat Barbara Trio... gar Moore yielded to demand and sang too...

At the party with the Moores were... Isabelle's daughter Marian MacDonald... and Gar's sister Jeanie and her husband Stanley Thombs from Tulsa... Jeanie is Tulsa's favorite interior decorator... and associated with Cousins the big furniture store that made front page news when it burned recently... Virginia and Charlie Farrell were there... Bill and Mousie

Powell... Dorothy Gray and Harry Joe Brown... (she excitingly gowned and just back from New York... and he involved in preparations for filming "The Spirit of '76" for Cinerama... which will probably be a four million dollar production)... Billie Dove and Bob Kenaston were among the guests and told me Helen and Jack are back with us... Edna Rothbart, Joan Bering, John Morris, Rose Mints... the Ed Maples from Las Vegas... And the sister and brother-in-law of the hostess Mr. and Mrs. Gil Gilbert of Las Vegas... and the daughter and son-in-law of the guest of honor Lorayne and Ralph Rissman of West Covina... There was a buffet supper and a big rose - decorated birthday cake... and gifts for Noonie... adding up to a pleasant evening at the Prells...

Louise and Maury Horner and Tom White are here... although they had a difficult time getting down from San Francisco... with all the planes socked in on Wednesday... Happy to be back too...

The party line is busy these days... Tonight's the Earle Hendersons' Friday the Thirteenth party... Tomorrow night is the Larry Coopers' cocktail party at their home on Abrigo Road... and the formal opening out at LaQuinta...

Invitations are out for cocktails and dinner with Bertha and Ed Robbin at their East Alejo Road home on the night of December 12... and Kay and Dolph Obergefel have chosen December 10 to entertain at cocktails and a black tie dinner at the Tennis Club...

One of the nicest things that's happened around here lately... is that Santos is taking over the Desert Inn dining room... and will be opening it next Wednesday night... At the same time Ed Dillon will be opening the Inn's cocktail lounge... Neither was open... and both were sadly missed last winter... Santos is planning to serve luncheons in the pleasant umbrella-shade courtyard by the fountain... always a favorite noonday spot in the past...

Rothbarts Host Party at Dinner

At the Racquet Club on Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rothbart hosted a party of 12 in honor of "Mousie" (Mrs. William) Powell. Oddly enough, the party was to have been given in Chicago during the World Series. Mrs. Powell was there anticipating the event; and at the last moment, Mrs. Rothbart found she would be unable to fly to Chicago. Her apology for the belated festivities is expressed in the clever baseball centerpieces which adorned the table.

Among the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farrell, John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Gar Moore, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Hyland Erickson, who are visiting

ONE OF THE GAY PARTIES that make the Palm Springs winter season scintillate, was hosted by the Milton Prells at their Vespero Drive home. Music and songs enlivened the evening. Pictured from left, Mrs. Gil Gilbert of Las Vegas, sister of the hostess; Mrs. Bill Perlberg, sister of the guest of honor; Mrs. Ralph Rissman, daughter of Mrs. Hall; guest of honor Mrs. Joe Hall; Ralph Rissman of Las Vegas; the hostess Mrs. Prell; musicians Johnny Archer and Pat Barbara. Guild Holds Luncheon for Membership Chairmen

Red antherium and satin streamers on the table matched ribbons tying packages of pink invitations at each place at the luncheon at Thunderbird Country Club of the Palm Springs Playhouse Guild membership committee Wednesday. The buffet table offered a tempting array of foods to the guests; lobster thermador, fried chicken, ravioli, a selection of salads, fresh fruit bowl and an assortment of desserts.

Presiding membership chairman Mrs. Robert Morrey was assisted by co-chairmen Mrs. Dolph Obergefel and Mrs. George Anderson. Following a welcome greeting by Mrs. Morrey, the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Obergefel who introduced the new member of the Board of Trustees, Dr. Samuel Salinger, and Mrs. Salinger, followed by an explanation of the goal of the Playhouse Guild to bring increasingly outstanding theatre to the desert.

The January 9th opening date of the Playhouse on the polo grounds marks the Guild's seventh season of sponsorship of live theatre.

A letter of greeting and appreciation for the membership committee's past activities from Mrs. John F. Luccareni, still confined to the Desert Hospital, was read to the assembled guests. Mrs. Obergefel then invited Marjorie Rambau (Mrs. Francis Gudgeon) to speak to the group. In her own particularly witty manner, Miss Rambau stressed the importance to the community of perpetuating good theatre in the area.

She introduced Eric North, executive producer-director of the playhouse for the 1960 season, who told of changes to be made at the polo grounds theatre, paramount among them being proscenium styling to replace the former arena staging. This he illustrated by a color sketch by his technical designer, Joseph Morton. The lively question and answer session that followed was evidence of the stimulated interest in the Playhouse future. Paramount among the queries was the calibre of plays to be presented. North assured his audience that they would not be disappointed and that within another two weeks he will announce the first seven plays and the names of several of the professional resident cast.

Village Chapter of WAIF Welcomes Nine New Members

Palm Springs Chapter of WAIF, which is holding its first event of this season, a fashion show luncheon at El Mirador on Saturday, November 28, has added a number of new members, according to its president, Mrs. Glenn Austin.

This group of active new workers which includes the Mesdames William T. Smith, Harold Johnson, Chester Cohagen, Emil Sick, Leo Owens, Kenneth Todd, Gus Kettmann, C. S. Irvine and Pat Wright, were welcomed to the organization at a meeting held Monday at the home of Mrs. Walter Brunmark.

Officers of the Palm Springs chapter of WAIF include President Mrs. Glenn Austin; first vice president and ball chairman Mrs. Joseph Froggatt; second vice president and Book chairman, Mrs. Laurance Cooper; third vice president and membership chairman Mrs. John Costello; fourth vice president chairman of local charities Mrs. S. P. Manasse; treasurer Mrs. Donald McDermott; assistant treasurer Mrs. Earl Cordrey; recording secretary Mrs. George Gannon; corresponding secretary Mrs. H. H. Ridder; president emeritus and publicity chairman Mrs. William Malouf; Mrs. B. J. Sanchez, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Austin McManus, member at large; Mrs. Walter Brunmark, hospitality chairman and Mrs. Kenneth Kirk, immediate past president.

Mrs. William Malouf is also serving as chairman of the WAIF fashion show luncheon which is to present the designs of famed Peggy Hunt, who has become known as one of the nation's top designers.

The showing, which is being sponsored by WAIF, with Saks Fifth Avenue handling the presentation is the first showing of Peggy Hunt's new resort collection.

Tickets for the ultra smart fashion show luncheon are now on sale, reservations being handled by Mrs. George Gannon, who may be reached by telephone at FA 5-2472.

Bridge Club Hostessed by Mrs. Arnold

The Calle Palo Fierro home of Mrs. Earle Arnold was decorated with a profusion of pink fall flowers when she entertained "The Lucky Twelve" bridge club at luncheon. This is one of the many card groups meeting in the homes of the members of the Palm Springs Woman's Club this year as a method to raise money for club philanthropic projects. There are groups of four, eight and 12, and each club will have a single winner to play in the final play-off at the close of the club year. Guests enjoying Mrs. Arnold's hospitality were Mesdames. Thomas Holland, Allan Jones, Joseph Forkner, Roy W. Burton, Ben H. Read, Chauncey Mahannah, Vera Farrel, George Chandler, William Froude, Meade Hargess and Miss Hazel Gross.

Two Students In Merit Win

Jan Hendershot, Bob Fry Winners

Two Palm Springs High School seniors have been cited for "outstanding performances" in the National Merit Scholarship qualifying tests conducted this year.

High school students honored with commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation are Robert M. Fry and Jan A. Hendershot, school principal Charles Webster said today.

The letters were authored by John M. Stalnaker, merit scholarship corporation president, who explained that the official commendations provide "tangible recognition" of superior ability.

The two Palm Springs students were among 550,000 students in 14,500 United States high schools who took the three-hour examinations which comprise the first step in competition for annual merit scholarships.

Names of the winning merit scholars will be announced shortly after the competition ends on May 1, 1960.

Crime Increase Is Explained

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A 118 per cent increase of juvenile crime in Los Angeles since 1950 was caused by the "breakdown of the moral and ethical climate of the country," according to the commander of the Juvenile Narcotics Bureau of the Los Angeles Police Department.

Capt. G. J. Glavas voiced the opinion Tuesday in testimony before a U. S. Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency.

Adolphe Pervy Conducts Tour In Quaint Town

One of the highlights of the Transatlantic Student Tour conducted this summer by Dr. Adolphe Pervy of Pervy Tours, was an intimate glimpse into the life of Rauenberg, Germany, a prosperous wine making village located about 28 miles south of Heidelberg.

Dr. Pervy's group, which included many Desert area residents, was met at the city hall by the clear and gay songs of welcome, performed by all the children of Rauenberg. Then came a speech by Herr Burgermeister Rossler, and a response by Dr. Pervy thanking the children and citizens of Rauenberg for the "warm welcome."

THEN THE GROUP visited a typical German farm, the baker's installation where Meister Rimmle offered the traditional prune cake to the group, the village's Metzgerei (butcher shop), where Meister Greulich offered his best "wurst" samples.

Next came the mill, wood sawing and grain milling, where Meister Muller Klumpf welcomed the Californians. Frau Klumpf had prepared a long table covered with their best bottles of wine and sandwiches of all kinds.

ALSO VISITED was the school house, and final event was a visit with parents of the community.

Among area residents joining in the tour were Miss Corinne Loinaz 205 South Palm Canyon Drive; Mrs. Evie J. Soward, 665 Vista Oro; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wenderoth of Ramon Trailer Park Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cuyler 1377 Camino Real; Mr. and Mrs. Wilton McCoy of Cathedral City; Miss Patricia Brown Parker of Desert Hot Springs and Compton; Mrs. Vera Harvey of Sun Town Trailer Park, and Dr. Pervy, tour leader.

Dr. Pervy, who also conducted a tour this summer to India and Japan, has moved his offices this season to 30-606 San Antonio Drive.

ENJOYING THE WELCOME by citizens and children of Rauenberg, Germany, are Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Wenderoth, Miss Patricia Brown Parker, Dr. Adolphe Pervy, tour director; Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Cuyler, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton C. McCoy, Mrs. Sue M. Murray, Miss Corinne Loinaz, and Mrs. Evie Soward, all Desert area residents.

Realtors Set Election Date

The Palm Springs Real Estate Board will hold its annual election of officers and directors at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, November 19, in the Biltmore Hotel, it was announced today by Don Cameron, president.

Lew Levy, salesman member, is chairman of the nominating committee for the election. Committee members are Ernie Dunlevie, Ralph Weinstein, Culver Nichols, Mildred Jackson, Arthur Greenfield, and Frances Wilson. The election meeting will be closed for voting. Voters will be active broker and salesman members.

The Touro Synagogue of Newport, R.I., is the oldest Jewish house of worship in America. It was dedicated as a national shrine in 1946.

Swimming Pools Lead Building Parade in PD

PALM DESERT — Swimming pools led this week's building parade in the Palm Desert area as new construction for the week added up to $62,323.

J. B. Noble, 44-486 Acacia Drive, dwelling, $17,755; Lakeside Development Corp., 77-069 Mountain View Drive, pool, $3,000; W. Coates, 43-906 Buena Circle, pool, $3,000; Silver Spur Properties, 73-560 Broken Arrow and 73-466 Buckboard Trail, two pools at $4,000 each.

Press Construction, Inc., 73-901 Highway 111, office building, $2,000; R. E. Moran, 74-044 Allesandro, 74-77 San Jose and 44-535 Portola, three awnings, at $250 each; Sproul Homes, Inc., 74-072 Avenue 44, dwelling, $8,517; Max Cheney 64-047 Aster Drive, enclosure carport, $1,400.

Rancho Mirage Building Paced By Apartment

RANCHO MIRAGE — A new seven-unit apartment building hoisted new construction values for the week to $70,644 in the Rancho Mirage area.

Building permits this week were issued by the Palm Desert County Building Department office to:

J. C. Dengler, 43-990 Joshua Road, seven units, $49,076; John Dale, 71-763 San Geronio, enclosure porch, $1,568; Whispering Waters, Inc., 42-536 The Veldt, remodel two apartments, $8,000, and add two units, $12,000.

Officer Slate Meeting Subject

THOUSAND PALMS — The Shangi-La Palms Property Owners Association will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p. m., Friday, at the home of Mrs. Frank L. Bruder on Las Flores Way in the Shangi-La Palms Subdivision of Thousand Palms. Harold J. Arnett, president, will preside.

Presentation by the nominations committee of its proposed slate of officers for the year 1960, to be voted on at the December meeting of the Association, is scheduled as the main item on the agenda of this November meeting.

Washington St. Extension Asked

A proposal by Orval E. Liddell of Avalon that a master plan for the Indian Wells area include extension of Washington Street from Avenue 44 southerly to Highway 111 was referred by the Board of Supervisors this week to the county road department.

Liddell, owner of acreage in the area, suggested that the improvement be made in two stages, first between Avenue 44 and Miles Avenue, and later southerly to Highway 111. He predicted that Washington will become a major artery south from the new overpass now under construction at Highway 99, to accommodate north-south traffic, especially to the La Quinta area.

The redwood trees of California secrete poisonous substances which are deadly to the insects upon which birds normally feed. Hence, there are no birds.

ALMANAC

United Press International Today is Friday, Nov. 23, the 317 day of the year, with 48 more days in 1959.

The moon is approaching its full phase.

The morning star is Venus.

The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

On this date in history:

In 1850, Robert Louis Stevenson famed Scottish novelist, poet, and essayist, was born.

In 1863, Pohn Drew, American matinee idol, was born in Philadelphia.

In 1921, Hollywood released "The Sheik"—starring Rudolph Valentino.

In 1927, the Holland Tunnel, running under the Hudson River between New York City and Jersey City, N. J., was opened to the public.

In 1933, workers in the Hormel Packing Company in Austin, Minn., staged the first recorded "sit-down" strike in the U. S.

A thought for today: Scottish poet Robert Louis Stevenson said: "Give me the young man who has brains enough to make a fool of himself."

FOUR CLASSES SET IN SALINITY STUDY

RIVERSIDE — Four special classes on problems of high salinity and high water tables will be offered to Coachella Valley farmers beginning Monday evening, November 16.

The courses, scheduled for two and a half hours each, will be given each Monday evening through December 7, by the Agricultural Extension Service, Riverside County University of California. Sessions will be held at Dateland Elementary School, Coachella.

A. F. Van Maren, farm advisor, explained that specialists from the University and the US Department of Agriculture will lead discussions on soil salinity, water quality, leaching requirements, drainage, irrigation and soil moisture movement. Irrigation waters from the Colorado River, containing approximately one ton of salt per acre foot of water, coupled with acute drainage and evaporation problems, have added to salt damage to valley crops in the past five years, Van Maren said.

In efforts to carry salty water off to the Salton Sea, many farmers have installed underground tile lines. The Coachella Valley County Water District has a net of 450 miles of underground cement pipes to help combat the problem.

Hearing Set on Salton Sea Use

INDIO — The Colorado River Basin Regional Water Pollution Control Board will hold a public hearing on beneficial uses of the Salton Sea during its Nov. 19 meeting.

The hearing, slated for 1 p. m. at the Elks Club, 82-870 Bliss Street, Indio, is part of a program of re-evaluation of beneficial uses of the Salton Sea to be protected or restored. The Board urges individuals and private or public organizations to attend and present testimony. Written statements may be mailed to P. O. Box 277, Indio.

The rate of homicide victims among divorced women is three times as great as among married women, according to a recent survey.

WHAT DO THEY MEAN BY "SANDBOX"?

We are not exactly sure we like the way Time Magazine referred to Palm Springs as "Southern California's sunny sandbox" in writing of President Eisenhower's visit. Not that we are knocking sand, you understand, but a sandbox, no matter how you look at it does not offer much in the way of variety. On the other hand there are more ways than a few to enjoy the desert. Let's say, for instance, your hobby is photography. The desert is loaded with interesting subjects as Val Samuelson has proved with his wonderful pictures. Incidentally, we have noticed some rather unusual photographic subjects around swimming pools, bars and golf courses just to mention three more types of desert spots where you can indulge hobbies.

Now if you are the rugged type you can take to the desert on horseback with bedroll and provisions. We tried this once but chickened out after the first night when some coyotes visited us. Also we found a scorpion under our sleeping bag the next morning. The experience was, however, rewarding in its way. We gained new respect for those old desert rats and a greater appreciation of our own Palm Springs' home. We could go into this subject in detail but it would not leave us room for our commercial message. This has to do with one of our developments, namely, Golden Vista Estates. Actually Golden Vista Estates offers one of the best ways to enjoy the desert and receive its many health giving benefits. While sunning yourself beside your swimming pool (Paddock 16' x 32', heated and filtered, of course) you have a magnificent view of San Jacinto or, as the Indians called it, Ai-Ya-Kaich (if you think that's hard to pronounce just try spelling it). To put yourself in the desert mood you can read the latest issue of Harry Oliver's Desert Rat Scrap Book. Man this is something — your home is located in Palm Springs' most exclusive residential district and represents about all a person could ask for in luxurious living. Imaginative architecture, large 120' x 100' lot, pool and play area all fenced for privacy. Inside — a huge living room, 3 bedrooms, a kitchen just loaded with built-ins, such as stove, oven, washer-dryer, garbage disposal, dishwasher, etc. Beautiful all wool, wall-to-wall carpeting, 1600 square feet of living area. A home that is not too big and not too small and the price is so right — actually underpriced many thousands of dollars. Then the down payment is easy too and those 6% terms will soon be a thing of the past, what with the money market acting the way it is. Actually you have missed a lot that the desert has to offer until you have seen one of our Golden Vista Estate homes. Why not come over today?
